Announcement from the Chief of Staff

Good evening my fellow Villouxians. As we begin our meeting tonight, you will have notice that this House of Players session will not follow standard protocol. Rather, I will be addressing you solo tonight. With the Grand Council's permission, I am taking this meeting as an opportunity to have a personal conversation you before we begin our political one. As you all know, Villoux lost a loyal user, a former Grand Council Member, one my closet Advisors, and a dear personal friend of mine, Mr. Nexe, in early March. The tragic and untimely death of Mr. Nexe has had adverse impacts on users from all walks of the system and, indeed, all corners of the globe. When I attended Mr. Nexe's funeral earlier this month with my Advisor, Dr. Afecter, we were honored to present his mother with a list of condolences and remembrances from over 70 different users on every inhabitable continent on Earth; a loud testament of how valued he was by our community.

If my Executive Assistant, Mr. Spazproof, is my right-hand man, Mr. Nexe was my left-hand man. As such, his passing has had as great of an impact on me as it has had on so many of you. A byproduct of that impact has been my inability to lead the system with a clear mind. For the past two months, whenever I find myself attempting to resume my work in Villoux, I become swept away in memories of Mr. Nexe or fall in a deep longing for him to be by my side as I work. These emotions have left me unable to fulfill my responsibilities to you, our staff, as Villoux's Chief of Staff – as your leader.

In struggling to understand what to do with these emotions, I found myself receiving guidance from Mr. Nexe's mother. She told me that when I find myself in these dark places, these places of longing for his companionship and his advice, to think what he would tell me and of what he would expect of me to do. She confidentially stated that it would be his desire for me to dust myself off, conclude my mourning, and return to work in Villoux – a community for which Mr. Nexe worked so diligently for many years. If I were to allow myself to be overcome with grief, I would be denying myself the greatest opportunity to remember and honor Mr. Nexe's memory. That, of course, is by re-devoting myself to this system and its success.

I stand firmly resolved before my staff this evening to announce that I will be ending my two-month hiatus and returning to Villoux more resolved to see this system succeed than before. Though this will be a difficult and daunting challenge for me, with aid from my Cabinet and the Grand Council, I am confident that Villoux will return to working order within the coming days.

I have already begun this process. During my hiatus, I found the Grand Council fractured and lacking several seats. We were without an Executive Discord Operator, Executive System Press Officer, Executive System Art Designer, and Realm of the Mad God Department Chairman – nearly half of the Grand Council. In today alone, the Grand Council and I have filled two of those vacant positions with users more than qualified for them.

The veteran Villouxian, former Realm of the Mad God Server Head of Villoux's Realm, and former Realm of the Mad God Department Chairman, Mr. Silent has returned to the system to begin serving as our Executive System Coder. Mr. Silent was the single most influential person driving the success of our massively popular private Realm of the Mad God Server, Villoux's Realm, and I am thrilled to see him devote that same energy and drive to our System Coding Department. Earlier this afternoon, Mr. Silent spent several hours updating Villoux's website and beginning preparations to re-create the Villoux Verification Bot for our Discord server. Amongst Mr. Silent's newfound responsibilities will also be a focus on bringing Villoux's Realm back online once a new Realm of the Mad God Department Chairman is appointed; a task for which there is no better person.

The previous Executive System Coder, Mr. Cronus, has been reassigned to begin serving as the Executive System Art Designer. In this position, Mr. Cronus will begin fulfilling the work of the System Art Design Department that has gone unattended in the absence of an Executive. Mr. Cronus and I will shift the focus of our weekly meetings from coding to art design and have the backlogged work of his department completed in a timely manner.

Despite these major steps in the right direction, the Discord Operation Department, System Press Department, and Realm of the Mad God Department still find themselves without the necessary Council leaders. In the absence of an Executive or Department Chairman for these departments, I will begin fulfilling their role's responsibilities. I have already begun contacting the System Press Manager, Mr. Patboii; Radio Villoux DJ Manager, Mr. Cheezcake117; and Misc. Gaming Section Manager, Ms. April to arrange weekly meetings with them to ensure that their sections are operating at a successful capacity until an Executive System Press Officer is hired. With assistance from my Executive Baskerville Assistant, Mr. Spazproof, I have held interviews with candidates for positions as Discord Operators. From these candidates, we will eventually select a Discord Operator with which we feel has the potential to serve as the Executive Discord Operator. In the meantime, the Grand Council, especially myself, will continue to keep Villoux's Discord server safe and secure. Finally, I am working on contacting our Realm of the Mad God Guild Masters and Realm of the Mad God Dungeon Masters to ensure that their work is continuing smoothly until we find a new Realm of the Mad God Department Chairman. To fill this position, I will first be interviewing the Realm Department's staff members and then begin accepting applications from across Villoux. It is my hope to have each of these vacant positions filled by the end of next month.

In terms of the other departments, the League of Legends Department Chairman, Mr. ChewOnDiss will resume meeting with me at the beginning of next month and together we will begin planning our next North American League of Legends tournament with assistance from his North American Tournament Director, Mr. Gator Grease. Mr. Chew and I will also continue furthering prospects of tournaments on the EU Nordic & East as well as the EU West League of Legends servers with assistance from the respective regional department staff. The Counter Strike Department Chairman, Mr. Dragonride will also begin moving towards hosting a North American tournament once he and I have our first meeting next week. In addition to tournaments, Mr. Dragonride and I are re-devoting ourselves to finding a user capable of serving as Server Head of our Counter Strike server, Villoux's Surfing Server.

I am blessed to have a nearly full Baskerville Cabinet with Assistants and Advisors on which I know I can rely. The TeamSpeak Operation Department is also under good hands with Executive TeamSpeak Operator, Mr. Makkapacca5 at its helm. In our meeting next week, Mr.

Makkapacca will make me aware of his choice for TeamSpeak Operative Manager, filling yet another critical staff vacancy.

The users of Villoux have helped me and so many others through terribly difficult and uncertain times. It is my determination to ensure that Villoux continues to provide not just a gaming community with excellent standards for servers, guilds, and tournaments, but a community in which users support and care for one another in a way unequivocal to others. My commitment to Villoux remains strong, and I look forward to helping achieve the merits of that commitment with all of you. Lest we forget, Villoux is a place where excellence is your only option.
